

Dec. 17, 95

For me to describe habitually of childhood is to complain

(taken forbidden to me - on pain of admitting I was not what Mother
wanted - sanctity, ostension, death)

- accusal of pants
- not desiring an identity different from what they wanted

(my father: to please of mother) different from what I had to be, to keep my mother's love

Thus, to complain, accuse, or assert of one (different / wants & needs was (is?) to CONFESS my shameful failure to be what Mother wanted to live up to "my" ego ideal (needed)

(taken from my Mother;
I read as my subordinate does not a diabolical arg, ^{or crowd} esp. with a "charismatic" leader

my guilt, my crime of being / not-being

("CRIMES OF IDENTITY")

FAILURES OF IDENTITY

But the punishment for this crime - from beyond reasonable doubt of confession

(i.e. accusation, complaint, ^{unwanted} self-assertion) -

(a "real feminist" would not do such, for any reason) is isolation, expulsion, rejection (of Mother - as, of Church, for Corall and Father / Mother

i.e. death, horror.

It also causes her death! She did need me (to be her hands, her slave, her alter-ego, substitute);

I choose

I choose - women who don't desire/appreciate/love me - as - I - am (-really, spontaneously) I choose to do (many) or be what (I think!) they want

[yet I, too, rebel, refuse the - passing - what they really want: since they are not my mother - I mis-perceive what they want - which is not, however, me - as - I - am] [so they do reject me - as - I - am] because: 1) I want my Mother* back (who was a person whom love was conditional - who threatened to berish me, ignore me - and ~~kill~~ die?! - if I wasn't what she wanted... which was not what I "was," what I want wanted to be or could want easily, spontaneously, be, my "nurturing nature" (Graf)

2) I want to undo ~~her~~ her death, by having killed her.

3) I want to compensate for, relieve my guilt for, be punished for, having killed her.

[my inability to seek/accept a (better) "substitute" - for Mother - one who would love me (more) as I am - may have been strengthened or needed by the accident - the way I "lost" her - by killing her

(Abused, violent death → serious guilt following immediately on my self-assertion be disappointed (in me) - as I had (no doubt, unaventional) feared.

of course, many men (a woman! cruel?! whose mother died, and father, withdrew) were when they don't really want to also, who - at times from - preferred

a female rival to me, and withdrew/shifted her milk:!

(Cruel;
Pat)

"She's back!"
(But - I want to die!?)
